RACE 1

It doesn't get much harder than this race to find the winner. TICKET TO ANYWHERE will love the wet ground and has drawn to get the run of the race. PROVERBIAL was good last start and has to be a major player. OUR BOY OLLIE will give a sight on speed. PRETTY WOMAN is 1 from 1 on a heavy track.

RACE 2

Must be on GREEN SHADOW again here. Only just missed getting a win for us last start when he ran 2nd only beaten 0.4L by Kanazawa. He was a bit tight for room at a key stage but still hit the line strong and the extra 100m here is a big tick. Back in grade should be hard to beat. WINEGLASS BOY is the only danger. He is an import having his first start for the Waller stable and has had a nice trial where he never got out of second gear. Has been off for a while so will improve off whatever he does today.

RACE 3

PASSEGGIATA couldn't have been more impressive on debut at Gosford. The step up in distance shouldn't be a concern and draws the perfect barrier. NARITO has some nice form around Democracy Manifest. THE GREAT HOUDINI goes well first up and will be in the finish. XPRESSO next best.

RACE 4

EXCELLADUS is yet to finish outside the top 3 on rain effected tracks. The step back to 1400m looks ideal and he brings the best form lines. I was on DIVINE BREATH two starts back and she ran a great race at this track but must deal with a poor barrier. The step up in distance might help and stable is flying.

RACE 5

FRUMOS might be the bookies favourite horse. Going down at short odds at her last 4 starts. Barrier 1 is a nightmare for this horse but the smaller field and Nash on to push out of pockets may help. Her best form is on rain effected ground but is too short to back. FESTIVAL DANCER should control the speed and give a sight. SAIGON doesn't have the best wet form but must be a chance, next best.

RACE 6

BOLD MAC won first up last prep at this track and distance. It was a heavy track that day also which he seemed to swim through. He has been given two typical soft Waller trials to prepare for this. VRENELI was a good all the way winner last start and has had a trial between runs to keep him ticking over. CUBAN ROYALE is undefeated this prep and is flying. Always seems to go around silly odds. SILENT AGENDA can improve with no weight.

RACE 7

ALEAS has always been a horse I have followed and looks suited today by the Heavy track conditions. He was a great run last start behind BONNY EZRA at a big price and the trial between runs was very nice. 2000m on a wet track at Rosehill looks a perfect set up for him to break back into the winner's stall. BONNY EZRA is a track and distance winner and could do it again. GLOBAL AUSBRED with no weight won't be far off. MISSION PHOENIX is will lead them up and can finish in the money.

RACE 8

I have found one at a big price here. CHATEAUX PARK was an unlucky fresh behind Kanazawa and does his best work second up. By this time of the day the rail should have chopped out a little and it will set it up for a swooper like him to come over the top. The Coyle stable always seems to be underestimated by the market. ESTADIO MESTALLA was a good winner last start but has never been on a rain effected track, so it is an unknown. STAR SPARKS is the pace setter and could be hard to catch if he gets control.

RACE 9

Best bet of the day comes up here. DR EVIL is a very underrated horse and has flippers for feet. If this guy was trained by a big name trainer he would start half his price most starts. Steinmetz would have been doing a rain dance this week and he has got his wish. His two runs this prep on good tracks have been eye catching and has looked like 3rd up, up in distance, on a wet track would be a winning recipe. Most of the speed has been scratched but his turn of foot should allow him to sit and sprint if they walk up front. LOGAN STREET LION is the danger coming off a nice run and is bred to handle conditions.

RACE 10

PIZARRO does look hard to beat but is poison odds for a horse first up on a heavy track. If I had to have a bet I would take SNIPPY FOX each way. She was run off her feet fresh in a very fast race and had to be taken back to last from a bad barrier. They should be more positive here second up on a wet track. She is yet to miss the top 3 second up and on heavy tracks. NIFFLER can run well fresh. VAN GIZ next best.
